

CHARLIE

A STORY THAT NEEDS TELLING

Charlie became a call to action to stop needless killing of bears. He was shot by a small caliber gun (appears to be 9 mm). The shot broke his pelvis. The whole story is in the article I wrote about him. I am starting the GoFundMe page to help replace damaged equipment so I can get back to the field. I want to teach people and especially children we do not need to hunt these animals especially using dogs.

Charlie shortly after being shot. Top

Still wanting to play and have fun

Charlie showing his injury. Top image shows he could not stand on all four legs. Bottom image shows the spot on the rump where the bullet went in and he has tried to dig it out with his teeth.

Here is what we are trying to save. Check out Welcome to Bearadise an e-book on this site.

